KARYN E. POLITO
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Lieutenant Governor Karyn Polito and I welcome you to the New England College of Occupational and Environmental Medicine (NECOEM)'s annual conference, hosted in partnership with the Massachusetts Association of Occupational Health Nurses (MaAOHN).

NECOEM and MaAOHN's annual conference demonstrates the tremendous commitment of their members to the prevention and treatment of occupational injuries. This year's event, entitled "Resilient, Responsive, Resourceful" unites leading physicians and nurses in the field of occupational medicine for a valuable professional experience.

We are proud of NECOEM and MaAOHN's innovation and service and encourage its members to take full advantage of this conference as an opportunity to learn and share ideas in order to uphold the integrity and best practices of their field.

Please accept our warmest wishes for a successful and memorable conference and enjoy your stay in our beautiful Commonwealth!

Sincerely,

As the 2021-2022 ACOEM President, it is with great pleasure that I welcome all of you to the 2021 NECOEM/MaAOHN Conference, “Resilient, Responsive, Resourceful”. I am very much looking forward to this conference and its content. The impact of occupational and environmental health has been highlighted by our collective battle plans for the COVID-19 pandemic. Many governmental agencies, employers and healthcare delivery systems now value and recognize our expertise in keeping the healthy people healthy and the ill people away from them. This enabled many critical workplaces to continue to operate during these difficult times. As you know, ACOEM is the nation’s largest medical society dedicated to promoting workplace health and safety through preventive medicine, clinical care, research, and education. We also encourage collaboration for all professionals committed to the mission of OEM: the prevention and management of occupational and environmental injury, illness and disability, and the promotion of health and productivity for workers, their families, businesses, and communities. Our collective activities and advances in occupational and environmental medicine through academic programs, industries and medical societies are foundational to the Total Worker Health® and the culture of health for all workers.

I look forward to sharing the educational and networking experiences that the NECOEM/MaAOHN Conference offers and sharing the exciting activities we are working on at ACOEM in 2021-2022.

Robert M. Bourgeois, MD, MPH, FACOEM, ACOEM President

Welcome to the NECOEM/MaAOHN 2021 Annual Conference!

Welcome and Hello fellow
Conference Attendees,
Friends and Colleagues!

Kenji Saito, MD, JD, FACOEM

NECOEM President

While we are adapting to and creating our new norm, we have a wonderful conference planned for you this year where some of us will be gathering together at our annual conference and others are joining us virtually.

Please take this opportunity (re)connect with fellow Occupational Health allies.

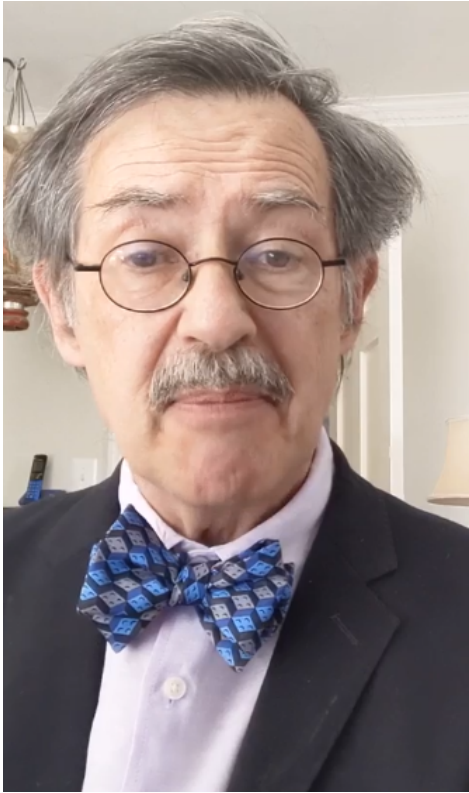

Welcome to the Annual MaAOHN/NECOEM Conference!!!
I am so proud of our members – Nurses/doctors still in the trenches keeping the employees and employers safe in this Pandemic world.

I'd like to thank the planning committee, the presenters, moderators, vendors and administration staff who collaborated and tirelessly worked to present our 2021 conference.

The broad talent of presenters joining us this year are some of the best in the business! We look forward to this conference with enthusiasm, it's a "must see" for all Occupational Health professionals.

Penny Allyson Clark, MaAOHN President
